

<https://perfusionlife.com/job/los-angeles-ca-ft-perfusion-position/>

Los Angeles, CA FT Position – $5,000 Signing Bonus

Description

- We are looking for up to 5 new FTE's starting ASAP in beautiful Los Angeles, CA!
- Good work-life balance with Employees averaging 40 hours per week and a low on-call schedule (around 25%).
- High-functioning and expanding Adult/Pediatric Cardiac program with 16+ CCPs and increasing demand for quality perfusionists.
- Successful candidates will enjoy continuous development within the field, new experiences with leading-edge resources and training, with a focus on a balanced lifestyle, highly competitive compensation, sign-on bonuses, relocation assistance, incentives, and excellent benefits and retirement packages.
- Opportunities for both experienced and newly graduated board-eligible perfusionists from accredited programs.

Responsibilities

- Responsibilities include adult and pediatric perfusion, transplantation (heart, lung, and liver), circulatory support (VAD, ECMO, and peri-operative IABP), along with autotransfusion services.
- The team provides support for pediatric and adult cardiac procedures, including CABG, Valve (both conventional and minimally invasive approaches), aortic procedures, TAVR, OHT, lung transplant, and XVIVO.
- The team has extensive involvement with ECMO management and VAD prep/monitoring.
- Perfusion support is also provided to non-cardiac surgical specialties, including liver transplant, autotransfusion, and HIPEC.
- The perfusionist will also share teaching responsibilities for all perfusion school affiliate students, as well as clinical instruction and assessment responsibilities for the operation of extracorporeal circulation to perfusion students, medical staff, and ancillary medical staff.
- Involvement in research opportunities and in-service education available.

This Perfusionist role is an integral part of the cardiac surgical team, using independent judgment and providing the expertise regarding extracorporeal technologies and pharmacologies needed in the delivery of patient care.

Qualifications

- ABCP Certified or a graduate from an accredited perfusion training program who is board eligible.
- Trusted relationships with surgeons and other colleagues.
- Must have excellent communication skills, be able to think critically, and work efficiently in both team and independent settings in a dynamic cardiac

Hiring organization

Perfusion Life

Employment Type

Full-time

Beginning of employment

ASAP

Duration of employment

Full Time Position

Job Location

Los Angeles, CA, US

Working Hours

Full Time

Base Salary

$ Inquire for Information

Date posted

June 19, 2024

surgical program.

- Open and welcomes the opportunity for 18 months of proctoring by colleagues to gain knowledge of the technology, procedures, and processes and, most importantly, to develop relationships with surgeons, team, et al.
- Passionate about patient care, being a Perfusionist, and part of a team.
- Values honesty and transparency and a positive work ethic.
- Conducts oneself with integrity, humility, perspective, and decisiveness.
- Collaborative, confident, and open and direct style of communication.

Job Benefits

- Excellent Benefits Package: medical, vision, dental, ortho, accident, and life packages, as well as a very competitive retirement program, including a company match (Safe Harbor 401k) program.
- Competitive Compensation: Enjoy top-tier pay rates for your expertise.
- Dynamic Work Environment: Experience the excitement of working in a high-profile hospital with a diverse patient population.
- Professional Growth: Opportunities for continued education, professional development, and management opportunities.
- Prime Location: Live and work in sunny Los Angeles, with its endless cultural, recreational, and lifestyle amenities.
- Supportive Team: Be part of a collaborative and dedicated medical team that values your contributions.

Contacts

Todd@perfusionlife.com